THE GRAND JURY MAKES A REPORT

Fail to Find Any Backbone in Poker Trust or Black-mailing Rumors

FIVE INDICTMENTS FOUND

And But Two are Felonies—the Brown and the McFeeley Cases

The Grand Jury of the September term of court, which has been meeting off and on for several weeks, owing to the illness of Deputy Prosecutor Newbold, made their report to Judge Sparks today.

In the report, the jury has seen fit to say, that in their opinion, the blackmailing rumors which were current recently, were given to the public through suspicious, as they were unable to unearth any evidence of a tangible nature. They also take occasion to report that they could not find any evidence to warrant an indictment in the alleged "poker trust" matter, wherein law violators were said to have received official protection in conducting gambling houses.

As to the latter, Deputy Prosecutor Newbold, who is president of the publication which had so much to say of the "poker trust," may answer why and wherefore they printed stories regarding the alleged official protection, and as to the former, a word from this paper is probably in order. To begin with, a newspaper is merely an instrument wherein public opinion is reflected. When the talk of blackmail was started recently, it spread like wild fire and soon was on every tongue in the county. An investigation was made of the matter by a representative of this paper before one word was published and in the opinion of the writer, from the facts gathered, and considering the source, for they came from some of the very best citizens of the community—it was thought that there was enough foundation in the reports to warrant an investigation.

At the time of the publication of the articles, which merely suggested that the grand jury take up the matter, (for if there was no truth in the reports, an investigation would do no harm) one or two of our lawyers took exception to the story printed, wherein one man was quoted as saying he thought several lawyers had been interested in the practice of blackmailing in this county for years.

The Daily Republican was only giving expression to the general views on the matter. If blackmailing has been carried on here, those guilty have suffered a "severe scare," and will not so again ply their crooked arts, but if the reports are only suspicious rumors, a little extra work on the part of the jurymen is all that can be held up against the publicity given the rumors.

The report is as follows:
To the Hon. Will M. Sparks, Judge of the Rush Circuit Court:
The grand jurors duly empanelled and sworn at the September term of said court herein makes report of its proceedings as follows:

The number of indictments found are five, of which two are felonies and three are misdemeanors. Upon examination of the county jail, said body begs to report that the same was found to be in good condition and the proper care given the inmates thereof.

In the examination of the county infirmary, said body found the same in good condition with due care and caution given to those who are inmates of said institution.

Said grand jury further wishes to report that acting upon the instructions of the court given at the beginning of the term relative to alleged protection of law violators by officials, they find after extended and determined investigation that they are unable to discover such conditions as those that common rumor had intimated.

Said body desires to report further that acting upon reports that are widespread both by newspaper accounts and general rumor, relative to blackmailing, the same being incident to and aroused by the suicide of the late Elijah D. Oldham, they are unable to discover any evidence of such a nature as to implicate any person or persons as blackmailers, and suggest that, it is their opinion, the impressions were given to the public.

FARMERS ARE LIABLE TO ARREST

Pure Food Inspectors After Them Regarding Sale of Fresh Eggs

It would be well for all farmers when they sell either bad butter or eggs to tell the merchant that the produce is "over ripe." Everytime they sell such they lay themselves liable to a fine, under the new pure food law. An inspector visiting a neighboring town a few days since, when a farmer brought in two dozen bad eggs and sold them to a merchant in that town. The eggs were examined, a few found to be bad and the farmer was fined $100 for the offense. An inspector is liable to visit Rushville any day and if he should happen to find bad produce being sold as first class, woe be unto the man or woman who tries the trick.

PAW PAW CROP IS LARGEST IN YEARS

A Good Frost is all that is Needed to Do the Work Now

This is the season of the year when the pawpaw fruit gets in its work. There are many "fiends" in Rushville and they will be delighted to know that the paw-paw trees are literally loaded with the "Indiana bananas." In fact, some of the fiends have already raided the supply and have many of them "ripening" at home. The true fiend claims, however, that the fruit is not fit for eating until Jack frost has taken a crack at it, and up to date Jack's efforts have not been of sufficient calibre to do the work.

Greensburg Review: William Levi, aged 86, died at the county asylum Wednesday. The remains were brought to the home of his son, William Levi, in this city, and today were laid away in the long, narrow home which he had like the high and lowly.

HERE'S WHERE THE FUN COMES IN.

Chickens will come home to roost, especially if they are taken to a place that does not strike them. That the fowls of Charles Kennedy do not like Connersville was evidenced in the fact that when that gentleman moved them from his farm east of here to that city, they beat their way back, "riding the bumpers." Kennedy moved to Connersville this week and among "other" household effects took along a number of chickens. The next morning after hauling them to the county seat of Fayette, when he returned in his wagon to the farm fourteen miles distant to get another load of goods, he was surprised to see the aforesaid chickens happily darting about the barn lot chasing the early worms and festive bugs. For some time he was at a loss to know how they came to the farm, for only a short time before he started that morning he had turned them out in the chicken yard at his new home in Connersville. A lone, lazy chicken, roosting on the coupling pole under the wagon cleared up the mystery. The chickens had climbed up on the coupling pole when Mr. Kennedy was hitching up, and rode back to the farm with him. Mr. Kennedy vouches for this "fowl story."

A good Watson story is going the rounds of the Congressman's friends and recently appeared in an Eastern paper.

It was just a few days before Watson announced his candidacy for the governorship. Derby Green was wrestling with a great heavy base burner stove in front of a local hardware store and had called a neighboring clerk to assist him in carrying it into the store. The load proved too heavy for the clerk and they were about to give it up and wait for some good Samaritan to come along. Around the corner appeared the striding form of one James E. Watson. He was in a hurry and was walking in double quick time. But Derby hailed him nevertheless. "Hey there Jim, wait a minute here. Give us a lift, will you?"

"Sure," said Mr. Watson, "where do you want me to take hold Derby?" And Derby put the busy nominee for Governor on the heavy side when they carried the stove through the store back into the warehouse.

The great commoner's hands were covered with stove polish when he came out of the warehouse perspiring. But he felt amply repaid when Derby shouted a "much obliged" after him as he hurried away to his office.

It is a shame to give publicity to a clever scheme successfully carried on each day in this city by a very poor family, but the story is too good to keep. We have often heard tales after this order, and while most of them are fiction, this is a "real story" and a true bill.

Near the elevators in the West End there lives a family which raises a large number of chickens. (Nearly everybody around the elevators keep chickens.) For some time it had been a problem with the mother of the family to raise enough money to buy chicken feed. But when the farmers began to haul their corn to town it proved a boon to the mother—and to the half starved chickens.

In the family are several young sons. According to the neighbors, the mother instructs the children to go out into the street when they see a farmer coming with a load of corn, and they shout at him, calling him vile names until they arouse his ire. Naturally, the first thing the man on the wagon will do is to reach back and get an ear of corn to throw at the "bad boys." The trick works as successful as an insurance swindle, and the half starved chickens are "picking up." One of the boys was hit with an ear of corn behind the ear Wednesday, and yesterday he appeared upon the scene of activity wearing a base ball catcher's mask; his mother made him take it off as it would expose the deal.

There are more ways to beat the grain market than one.

—Mrs. James Warfield returned home yesterday after a two days' visit with friends and relatives at Indianapolis.

The funeral services of Harry J. Webster, who died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Webster, in Manila Wednesday midnight, will be held at the residence in Manila tomorrow at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. Bartel. Interment will be made in the Manila cemetery. Besides the parents he leaves a brother, William, of Manila, and three sisters, Mrs. John Wissing and Mrs. Walter Taylor, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Clyde Whisman, of Manila. He was a Master Mason of Equity Lodge No. 565, of Manila, and the members of that organization will officiate at the funeral.

MOTHER LEARNS OF SON'S DEED

Thomas Brown's Mother Kept Ignorant of Shooting Affray Until Yesterday

CAME FROM CINCINNATI

Effort is Now Being Made to Have Young Prisoner
"Floated"

Mrs. Mary Abrams, the mother of Thomas Brown, who was found guilty in the circuit court this week of shooting John Peters, was not aware of her son being in trouble until Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Abrams lives in Cincinnati, and while two of Brown's brothers have visited their mother several times since the shooting took place last August, but they never told her of the affray.

As soon as the trial was over and the young man was found guilty, the mother was apprised and she came to this city yesterday and visited her son in the jail.

An effort is being made to have sentence suspended and the young man floated. His friends claim that it was the first time the boy was ever in trouble, despite unpleasant and morally unhealthful home environments, and the fact that he cared for an aged grandmother and saved over two hundred dollars working at a small salary, in proof, they declare, that there is a deal of good in the boy's make up.

DAMAGE SUIT WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

Case is Attracting Great Deal of Attention Because of Legal Talent

The big damage suit of Bartholomew Landers vs. the U. S. Box Board & Paper company, in which he asks $100,000 damages for injuries sustained while repairing a boiler in the company's plant at Carthage, is attracting a great deal of attention today.

The evidence was all in at noon and at 1:30 this afternoon the arguments began. Senator Hugg was the first man on the floor in defense of the alleged injured man. He was followed by Congressman Watson for the plaintiff. After Mr. Watson had spoken for thirty minutes, his colleague, the Hon. John W. Kern, took the floor. Henry Spann of Indianapolis was pleading for the defendant as we went to press.

The case will be given to the jury about 5 o'clock this evening.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED TODAY

And Two Refused by Judge Sparks in the Rush Circuit Court

Judge Sparks had an inning with Cupid in the circuit court today, and broke even with the god of love in a four round go. Two applicants for divorces were granted and two refused.

On the case of Carrie A. Six, who sued Thomas A. Six for a divorce, the defendant was refused same.

Jesse A. Miller was granted a two year separation from Clyde Miller, with the custody of their child; $350 alimony, $50 attorneys fees and three dollars per week for the maintenance of their child. The child will be allowed to visit the father.

Hallie Readle was granted a divorce from James O'Brien Readle, with the custody of their child.

The divorce case of Victoria Culbertson vs. William Culbertson was refused.

Mrs. Joseph Pugh, who was suffering with cancer of the face, is getting along very well since she has been treated by Dr. J. H. Pugh, of Indianapolis, who is going to your speciality.

RUSHVILLE NOW HAS A "WASTE PAPER KING."

Clarence Cross of the postoffice force, is now the "Waste Paper King" of Rushville. He has access to the off-fall of every large consumer of paper in this city. In the rear of the postoffice Mr. Cross has just completed building a warehouse where he bales the paper for shipment. He realizes a nice sum of money each month with the new stunt.

NOTICE SENT TO LOCAL SCHOOLS

Regarding the Prosecution of Parents For Not Sending Children to School

Fassett A. Cotton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has written Prof. J. H. Scholl as follows:

"When a child is absent from school for one day the child's parents should be given a written notice and after the expiration of five days if the child is not in school and does not attend regularly the parents are subject to the penalty of the law. Five days after the notice has been served prosecution may be begun. You are not required to wait five days before prosecuting when dealing with subsequent violations."

The Ladies Home Journal for October has a cover design which is said to be made from a picture of a Rushville girl. Couldn't come to a better spot to select distinct types of beauty.

"WINDY" MORGAN STOPPED TEAM OF RUNAWAY HORSES

A team of horses hitched to a farm wagon belonging to John Blackledge ran away on West Third street Wednesday evening and a serious accident was averted by the heroic methods employed by Charles "Windy" Morgan in stopping them as they dashed up the sidewalk.

POLE TAX DODGERS ARE IN DEEP WATER

State Officials Urging County Treasurer to Garnishee the Wages of Young Men

In Marion county the county treasurer is making a great effort to collect poll taxes owed by young men who have little personal property, but who are making good wages and who let their poll taxes go delinquent.

The county treasurer is going to the limit of the law to collect them viz. prosecution. The State officials have been urging the county treasurers all over the State to collect as much delinquent tax money as possible and to resort to any legal measure to make collections. The plan adopted to collect the poll taxes is for the treasurer to send out letters to the delinquents, giving warning that unless such taxes be paid in five days the account will be placed in the hands of the prosecuting attorney for collection.

The prosecutor has the power to garnishee wages for the for the purpose of collecting these wages, and when the taxes are paid, is entitled to a fee of $10 and ten per cent of the amount collected. This, with the court costs, etc., makes an amount generally several times as large as the original amount. This plan has been tried in other states and was found to be very successful. The treasurer succeeded in collecting ninety-five per cent of delinquent poll taxes.

WORKED THROUGH THE HEAVY RAIN

Sewer Contractor Had Hunyaks Work Until Almost Midnight Last Night

Julius Kellar, the sewer contractor, had to call out his force of laborers last night about 7 o'clock on account of the heavy rain settling the dirt in the trenches, making a number of large and dangerous holes along the traction line on Third street.

The men worked in the rain like beavers until 11 o'clock, when Mr. Kellar called them off and served "light refreshments" to the faithful employees.

WORRY OVER A LACK OF CARS

Railroads Will Have Trouble in Hauling the Heavy Crop.

It is said the car shortage is daily becoming more pronounced and the freight officials have their men employed in looking after the prompt unloading and loading of cars rather than for new business. A local traffic official well versed on the situation says he never knew like conditions to exist so early in the fall and winter months. The corn crop bids fair to exceed far in quantity the expectations of shippers, and there are large quantities of hay, oats and wheat yet to be moved. Summing it all up, where the cars are to come from to handle the increasing local business and the through traffic is a question which the wisest railroad men cannot determine.

The Milroy team with Harry McElroy in the box was defeated Tuesday by the Moscow team, score 11 to 7. McElroy was not hit hard at any time in the game, and with good support would have won his game. Halterman will pitch for the Shelbyville Grays October 6th against the Nebraska Indians.

EDITORS SPEAK WELL OF WATSON

Newspaper Men Throughout Indiana are Generous
With Their Space

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS

And the Force of Newspaper Commendation is Felt When the Ballots are Counted

The newspapers of Indiana have been generous with their space in speaking of Watson's candidacy and fitness, for he is considered nearly everywhere as one of the most capable men in the State, and by far the best vote getter. If the choice was left to the people of Indiana at this moment, James E. Watson would be the next Governor of this State.

In speaking of his announcement, the Linton Record says: "The recent announcement of the candidacy of Hon. James E. Watson, of Rushville, for the Republican nomination for governor of Indiana, has put a new phase upon State politics. Affected by the influence of a multitude of strenuously solicitous friends, Watson made his announcement, and the Watson wave is now strong and effective. He comes from a strong Republican district, with a solid working delegation, a wide acquaintance and a strong personality. His political influence is of national effect. He has for and years been a member of congress from the good old Sixth district, and has made a record which says to the voters that his qualifications for governor are superb. His untiring energy and broad knowledge of things governmental has already made him the leader of congress, and has wrought honor to himself and pride to his people. He is a man of strong physique, with character and ability to compare. When you see him and hear him talk you never forget him and always like him. The Republicans could do no better than make him governor of Indiana. He is of the kind of men that do things. His record as 'whip of the house' is an enviable one. His career in congress has been one of honor and remarkable success. As a candidate he is a vote getter and would carry the grand old Hoosier State by a magnificent majority."

Sniff, formerly of this city who has been elected as editor-in-chief of a monthly journal which will be published in the interests of the high school of Paris. In speaking of the efficiency of the editorial staff of which Harold is chief the Gazette says: "A full corps of editors and assistants were chosen and the new magazine starts out with a complete equipment of embryotic journalists. Several of the 'force' have decided 'leanings' toward journalism and with the aid of capable assistants we shall expect some great things from their quills."

"UNCLE JACK'S" OPEN HOUSE Pretentious Watson Headquarters Soon to Be Opened.

Indianapolis, October 4.—Captain John K. Gowdy of Rushville, known affectionately by the old guard of Indiana Republicans as "Uncle Jack," will take charge of Congressman Jas.
E. Watson's race for the nomination for governor next week. He will open headquarters at the Claypool hotel on Oct. 10, and he expects to be busy day and night for his fellow-townsmen until after the state convention. Capt.
Gowdy has issued a brief public statement informing his old friends that the latching will be out to them here as soon as he comes to town.
He has been out of the political game in Indiana for several years, but he doesn't anticipate much trouble in getting in again. He is very enthusiastic over Watson's prospects, and he will attempt to make a compact organization for him. Captain Gowdy will have the assistance of Colonel Ed Thayer of Greenfield, one of the most popular men in the Indiana national guard, who will be at the headquarters with him all the time. Senator Fremont Goodwine of Williamsport, who is a prospective candidate for governor, was here again today in conference with some of his friends.
He would not be interviewed, as he said that he has not definitely made up his mind whether he will make the race. The impression is gaining rapidly that he has decided not to be a candidate, but one of his friends said that he will not make an announcement for several weeks. In the meantime he will take advantage of every opportunity to see whether or not there is a good opening for him to capture the nomination. Interest in the situation has been heightened by the persistent report that Colonel W.
T. Durbin of Anderson has practically determined to make the race for a second term. He refuses to talk about the matter, but a public statement is expected from him within a very short time.

George Purcell, state labor commissioner, has received a letter from E.
F. Flood, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor, telling him of the difficulty he is encountering in unionizing the laborers at Tell City. It seems that some of the ministers have enlisted in the cause of the employers. Flood says that one woman who works in a furniture factory, told him that she didn't want to join the union because her minister had told her that she would not go to heaven if she did. She wants to join her little son in heaven, and her minister declared to her that she would have no chance of being with him if she became a union laborer. Flood says that many laborers have left Tell City since the strike began.

A bulletin issued by State Statist-cian Stubbs shows that the wealth of Indiana has grown rapidly during the last few years. In 1900 the total was estimated at $2,605,493,004. The statistics show that in 1904 the valuation was $3,105,781,739—an increase of over $500,000,000. The increase in the valuation of real estate in that time was $200,000,000. The increase in the valuation of factory plants from 1900 to 1904 was over $20,000,000.
The report shows that the average valuation of land per acre in 1900 was $113.49, while in 1904 it was $135.23.

been made by someone in the room adjoining the one in which he was off or shut down, and when he started to enter the room the would-be robber jumped from the window through which he had entered and escaped.

TO AVOID PROSECUTION

Kopenhaver Paid Prosecutor $ 20 a South Bend, Ind., Oct. 4.—Testimony tending to prove that George A.

Kurtz of this city, now being tried on disbarment proceedings in the circuit court, was bribed to extend the protection of the prosecuting attorney's office to Wilson Kopenhaver's gambling rooms, was introduced in a deposition from Kopenhaver, who is now at Norfolk, Va., which recites that Kopenhaver paid Kurtz $20 a month to avoid prosecution. Patrick J. Flannigan, of Governor Hanly's office at Indianapolis, testified to letters sent by the governor to Kurtz asking that in case no action could be successfully prosecuted here that "Red" Austin be turned over to the authorities of a better case could be made against him there than at Monroe county, Indiana, where Austin was also wanted.

have been working up a strong chain of evidence against Randall, and when the doctors pronounced the poison arsenic they immediately arrested him.
He insists that he knows nothing about the case. On the day of the alleged poisoning Miss Steele went to the refrigerator and took out a beef-steak which she prepared and ate.
A little later when Mrs. Feldheiser, who lives in the flat above Miss Steele, went to the refrigerator she found her chicken covered with white powder.
Rapping at the door of Miss Steele's flat to inquire about it, she found her stretched out on the floor nearly unconscious. She was in a precarious condition for some time. It is believed that Mrs. Feldheiser was the intended victim, as Randall is said to be in love with her and extremely jealous.

Preparing Monster Protest.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 4.—Numerous attorneys are busy in the eastern part of Huntington county in a final effort to round up sufficient names to give two-thirds of the interested parties for a remonstrance to the Fast, or Little river improvement proposition.
The proposed drain is a four-county affair, about 2,000 property owners in Allen, Whitley, Wells and Huntington counties being assessed. Proceedings were instituted about six years ago and the matter has been in the courts since. Those fighting the improvement seek to defeat it by the two-thirds remonstrance plan. The plan is to deepen, straighten and broaden the channel of Little river much of the way between this city and Fort Wayne at a cost of $125,000.

Undeterred by Court Decision.

Boonville, Ind., Oct. 4.—Although his contract has been held void by a recent decision of a similar case in the supreme court, H. S. Taylor, tax ferret, of Anderson, who was employed a year ago to run down sequestered property and back taxes, continues his work with no appropriation to compensate him for his services.
Thousands of dollars' worth of property that has escaped taxation for a period of twenty-five years have been placed on the assessor's books, and the sequestered taxables not only consist of mortgages, notes and county bonds, but diamonds and greenbacks are not escaping the eyes of the ferret.

Wants Verdict Set Aside.

Petersburg, Ind., Oct. 4.—Rev. Eli Tart, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been convicted in the circuit court here of having threatened to shoot J. H. Mason, employed in the law office of T. C. Johnson. His punishment was fixed at six months in jail. A motion to set aside the verdict will be argued tomorrow. In the meantime Tart is at liberty on $500 bail. The case was an appeal from the decision of the mayor, by whom Tart was fined $25 and ordered sent to jail for thirty days.

A Double Tragedy.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 4.—In a fight over her attentions to Miss Mary Mc-Clintock, James Hensley, thirty years old, of Indianapolis, shot and killed her brother, Enoch McClintock, and her father, Walter McClintock, on the McClintock farm, five miles northeast of this city. The frenzied murderer then attempted to kill Mary McClintock, but was overpowered and disarmed by her older sister, Cora.
Hensley was arrested on his way to this city to face himself up.

Convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Waterways Association Is a Big Thing.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 4.—With flags and bunting flying from nearly every business house, Memphis greeted the delegates to the second annual convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Waterways association which met here today. Many distinguished visitors are present, chief among whom is the president of the United States, who delivered a notable address this afternoon. Governors from many states; senators and representatives from various parts of the country and celebrated engineers are in attendance. The convention was called to order this morning and the program as arranged will continue through Saturday.

Upon the arrival of President Roosevelt by boat from Cairo shortly after the noon hour today, he was taken in charge by a reception committee and followed by a great concourse, proceeded to the Auditorium building in the east end. The president there addressed the delegates and visitors.
After his speech he returned to a special train which was in waiting at the union depot and departed at once to the hunting grounds in northern Louisiana.

OLD TIMES RECALLED

The President Reminded of His Great Uncle's Historic Trip.

New Madrid, Mo., Oct. 4.—The president spent the entire afternoon yesterday in a leisurely run down the Mississippi river from Cairo to New Madrid. His boat, the Mississippi, slowed up at New Madrid, but the delay was brief.

New Madrid is a place of history, and not the least interesting feature of its history is found in the associating with it of the name of Nicholas Roosevelt, a great-uncle of the president, who stopped here in 1811, when he brought down the first steamboat that ever ran on the waters of either the Mississippi or the Ohio rivers. It was here that Nicholas Roosevelt turned up the Mississippi instead of down. It is related that this change was influenced by the great New Madrid earthquake, which occurred at that time. These facts have been recited many times to the president since he began his tour of the river, and he has never failed to manifest interest in them.

The president's boat did not land, owing to his desire not to vary his program. The run down the river was devoid of interest for the most part, the only enlivening incident being a brief race between the Alton and the Fred Hartweg, a fast Ohio boat, with a delegation from Pittsburg on board, which joined the presidential fleet at Cairo, which was a drawn battle. The president lunched aboard the Colonel Mackenzie with the inland waterways commission.
The low river banks were at places fringed with people, but they were generally too far removed from the boats to permit any demonstration except the waving of handkerchiefs. At one place in Kentucky the bluff was decorated with bunting and the president expressed pleasure over the tribute.

The fact that there have been several efforts by Congressmen, governors and others to discuss the third term question with the president since the beginning of the tour has become known, but the president has discouraged all such attempts. He was told of at least two delegations that would be instructed for him regardless of his attitude.

During the afternoon the report gained currency that the Columbia, which started from Keokuk as an escort to Memphis, had gone aground on a sandbar, but there was no confirmation of the rumor except the absence of the vessel.

Just before coming into New Madrid, the Alton and the Hartweg drew up alongside of the president's boat, with the last named in the middle, and all ran abreast for some distance, making a very effective grouping.
These, as well as the other vessels of the fleet, were elaborately decorated with the national colors, and the river was at this point broad and deep enough to permit such a bunting as had not been permissible theretofore.
The fleet consisted of thirteen vessels.

He Took It to Heart.

Toledo, O., Oct. 4.—Because she would not marry him, Gaze Poka, a Hungarian twenty-five years old, shot and killed Meri Tulop, aged twenty-one, at the home of the latter's sister here last night. Poka then turned the weapon upon himself and inflicted a fatal wound. The girl had a lover in Roumania and was preparing to return there next week to marry him.

Amusements

There will be skating at the Kramer rink tomorrow night.

"At the Old Cross Roads" at the Auditorium in Connersville tonight is one of the best popular priced shows on the road. It is an intense story of life aptly told by a capable company. Scenic effects of the most beautiful kind. A combination of all the elements to please.

The Grand theatre offers to its patrons tonight and tomorrow night more new comedy in the film entitled a "Stilt Race," which is decidedly comic. The other subject "The Burglar," is "something different" which was used in New York City last week. Miss Iva Brown will sing the illustrated song, "My Virginia."

At the Vaudet theatre tonight and tomorrow night will be seen one of the finest set of subjects ever shown here. "The Poor Little Mites" is one which cannot help but bring tears to the eyes. "Angling in Norway" depicts the manner of fishing through ice in Norway, which is very interesting. "The Express Sculptor" is a very fine subject in modeling in clay. Mr. Wilson will sing the illustrated song, "At the Old Cross Roads."

"Bill" Randall, the big pitcher who played here with the Frankfort team, two years ago, and who has been with Cedar Rapids this season, was drafted by the New York National yesterday.

Stop the Strenuous Life.

Weakens the Tissues and Lessens Organic Vitality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends towards stomach troubles.

Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulency, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means that two out of three in Rushville and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic, stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into such condition that it does the work Nature expects of it.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in its curative action that Johnson's Drug Store, with every 50-cent box they sell, give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.
